Spring is Here

Grab your fly rod Ladies and Gents, peak trout season is upon us!

Trout Fact

A trout can look and focus out of both corners of each eye simultaneously meaning that it can see in almost every direction at once.

So what??

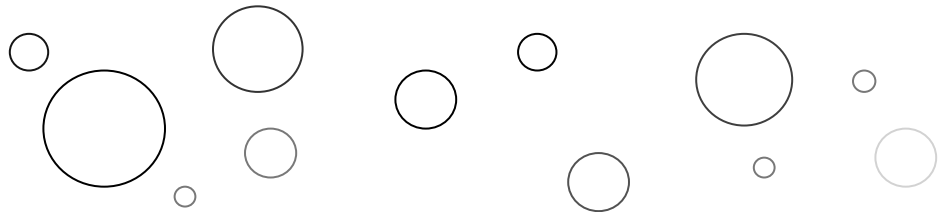

Trout face into the current, so when approaching fish in low water it is often easiest from a position downstream of the fish.

Try this approach the next time you are fishing and try to make your first cast count!
